On 16 October, the EU SME Centre was featured during the EUROCHAMBRES Economic Forum (EEF), one of the organisation's flagship events, reuniting the entire network of the Chamber family.

Guest speakers such as Luxembourg's Finance Minister, Pierre Gramegna as well as economist and social theorist Jeremy Rifkin opened the conference, hosted within the premises of the Luxembourg Chamber of Commerce.

The EU SME Centre was presented during the Internationalisation Roundtable session, and actively engaged in the Chamber-2-Chamber (C2C) meetings.

Collaboration between the EU SME Centre and National and Regional Chambers ranged from aware-raising activities to specific national and sectoral trade missions and trainings, in line with increasing the Centre's mission to increase its promotion and outreach across Europe.
